FELLOWSHIP FROM FRIENDSHIP

By Cdr Mary Quande, P

My first article as your commander is almost late. (I have not changed yet, Julie.)

The beginning of my year has been very full so far. The Change of Watch was fun. I have already given the past commanders subject matter for my roast. Thank you to Don Parker, AP, Donna Parker, Gloria Hunt, N, P/D/ C Joanna Webster, AP, and everyone who helped with the decorating. One thing about this squadron, when you need help just ask, they will come. I have my goals set:

- Retention of members.
- Increase our Vessel Safety checks
- Increase number of our Vessel Safety Examiners.
- Teach the younger boaters about safe boating.

The Daffodil weekend was great. In attendance were Don & Donna Parker and Bianca the flag ship and Bianca the dog, P/C Terry Scott, P, Nancy Scott, P, Terry Smith, P, P/C Jackie Smith, AP, Steve & Mary Archer, P/C Jack Green, N, Sheila Green, AP, Marcus Nelson, AP, and P/C Kara Dalkey, Of course we kept the tradition of the, not so great flag salute, but we looked really good. With the suggestion from Jack Green, we all had life jackets on when standing on rail of the Bianca [Ed. Note: Sounds like quite a balancing act]. People along the parade route noticed and gave us a thumbs up.

I will be attending the May 7th Education Council in Oak Harbor. If you our going please sign up now.

In closing I will need to do a better job of writing this article and including all the information that I need to pass on to the members.

I look forward to my year as commander and the achievements our squadron will make.

Cdr Mary Quande, P

FROM ANDROMEDA'S COCKPIT

By Lt/C Tom Spohn, P

Toward the end of last year's season we decided to buy a new spinnaker for our sailboat. For you non-sailors the spinnaker is that enormous, brightly colored sail that you see billowed out in front of a sailboat when it is running downwind. The spinnaker was ordered, made, and delivered. I went out with the sales rep. and we made sure I knew how to deploy it. Then fall came and with it rain and cold so the spinnaker sat in its blue bag all winter long. Some time ago my friends began to ask me when we would test the spinnaker for real. So I picked a dry—relatively speaking—day with light wind; called the crew and off we went. We motored over to Tramp Harbor and put up the sail with a minimum of mistakes. And then—the wind yawned deeply and promptly went to sleep! The instruments were reading a wind speed of “0”. But through some miracle the spinnaker was filling and slight ripples from the back of the boat proved there must be some air maybe 50 ft. up at the top of Andromeda's mast. The boat slowly gained one knot, then two. So we were sailing along at two knots in the late afternoon under a motor-oil colored sky over water that looked like a dirty mirror in total stillness. It seemed that the boat should not be moving but it was. The entire crew fell silent completely enveloped by the environment. Just then off the port side a large group of Dall's Porpoise noisily swam by. The black and white markings were catching the dying rays of a late winter's sun and they went about their business just as if we were not there. Perhaps the extreme silence of our boat made this possible; I don't know.

Sometimes when friends ask me if boating is fun and worth the expense I think of this day. It was not just fun; it was magic. It was a mystical connection with the Salish Sea that can only be experienced on a boat. I was stunned and very grateful for the experience.

Days like this are possible because we have the Salish Sea at our doorsteps and we have the Sail And Power Squadron to teach us how to safely set forth on that sea. I feel deeply indebted to both.

Tom Spohn

A FEW WORDS FROM RICH

By Lt/C Rich Rutkowski, P

After last month's Change of Watch, Poverty Bay is off and running with its new year. At this time, it is appropriate for me as the new Administrative Officer, to thank all of our members who have served the squadron in administrative capacities during 2010 - 2011. They are:

Administrative Officer	Lt/C Tom Spohn, P
Flag Officer	Lt. John McKay, N
Photographer	P/C Jack Green, SN
Meetings Chairman	Lt. Carol Thompson, P
Membership Chairman	P/C Bob Miller, SN
Member Involvement	P/C Gray Cunningham, S
	Lt/C Mary Quande, P
Operations Training	P/D/C Joanna Webster, AP
Program Chairman	Lt/C Tom Spohn, P
Property Officer	P/C Dave Burke, S
Publication Chairman	Lt. Julie Hale, P
Mailing Committee	Lt. Nancy Scott, P
Telephone Committee	Lt. Linda McDonnell, P
Refreshment Chairman	P/C Gray Cunningham, S
Roster	P/D/C Joanna Webster, AP

These officers helped to keep our squadron running in so many ways. Thank you! And now for the double thanks... most of these officers have agreed to serve another year! Double thanks are in order!!

The few changes for 2011 - 2012 are: Tom moves on to be our Executive Officer, of course; and, Julie has elected to retire from serving many, many years as our Publication Chairman. A special thanks to Julie! P/C Kara Dalkey, P has agreed to serve as Interim Publication Chairman. Thank you Kara!

The speaker at our May dinner meeting will be Doug Miller of Milltech Marine. Doug is a specialist in AIS (Automatic Identification System), and will brief us on all of the latest technologies. AIS is an automated tracking system used by ships and the Vessel Tracking System for identifying and tracking vessels. Vessels equipped with AIS exchange data electronically while underway. AIS supplements radar, and can be important in collision avoidance.

SAFE BOATING THROUGH EDUCATION

By Lt/C Dave Sharp, SN

As this year's boating season is ramping up, we are entering the final stretch of the 2010/2011 Education Calendar.

Advanced Piloting students have finished their classroom instruction and, after a final review session, will receive their take home final this week. A big thank you to my fellow instructors P/C Martha Battles, JN, Bob Swarm, SN, and Rick Edel, JN.

Not busy enough teaching ABC and Advanced Piloting, Pat Foley, SN, and Rick Edel have also been teaching Weather and that class is also in the review / exam stage. I'm one of about 20 students enrolled and we've really enjoyed this class – very good class material from USPS and enthusiastic, informed instructors. We don't offer this course every year so if you haven't taken it, don't pass up your next opportunity.

Instructor Development is about to begin. If you have a desire to participate in teaching, or would just like to brush up on your presentation skills, this is the class for you. Contact the instructor, P/C Jim Sola, AP or me ASAP if you would like to enroll.

Our last class of the 2010/2011 Calendar is forming right now. Lead instructor P/C Bob Miller, SN will be offering Seamanship in a compressed 6 week schedule starting May 3rd and winding up June 7th. If you haven't had a chance to fit in this foundation course, now's your chance. If you have to miss a couple of classes – we can work around that. If you have testing angst – don't take the test. If you're a very experienced boater - class discussion will benefit from your presence. Come join us!

District 16 educators are gathering in Oak Harbor on May 7th for the annual Education Seminar. If your 4 year Instructor Certification expires in 2011 or 2012, a refresher will be offered at the seminar (registration form on the D16 website). We'll also arrange for a refresher class as part of a June PBS&PS Education Department meeting if May 7th doesn't work for you. At that meeting we will set our 2011/2012 Class and Seminar Schedule. If you have a class or seminar you'd like us to offer please contact ASEO Dan Ottenbacher, AP or me in the next couple of weeks.

Finally, you may have noticed that while the by-line has changed the post-Change of Watch headline above has remained the same. With "Safe Boating Through Education", former SEO Rick Edel focused us on the main event – and I can see no reason to change that focus. Besides, "Sarcasm from Sea Sharp" would surely have raised too many eyebrows – even among The Pirates.

CHANGE OF WATCH — APRIL 2011

Ahhh the pageantry of color, changing of the guard, a theme of Rendezvous to Hawaii, and roasting err toasting of the outgoing Commander. It can only mean one thing, it's Poverty Bay Sail and Power Squadron's famous Change of Watch! The dinner was grand, pictures of all our boats as table centerpieces was a very nice touch, and a playful roasting with sincere appreciation of all the efforts of Ex-Commander Kara Dalkey, P over the past year. We sincerely wish all the best for new Commander Mary Quande, P!

Thank you

Port Orchard ... ya shoulda been there!

By P/C Barry McDonnell, P

The last weekend of April, Poverty Bay Sail & Power Squadron was joined by the Minnkota Cruising Club to observe the promise of the first decent weather weekend in months. New members Paul & Carol Butler earned their 2011 merit mark less than 2 months after they joined. They co-hosted this rendezvous with ancient mariners Barry & Linda McDonnell, blending new ideas with tradition to form a nice weekend package. Rendezvous participants brought such wonderfully generous offerings of hors d'oeuvres on Friday, and salads & desserts on Saturday, that people at the very end of the line found NO empty serving dishes ... thanks again for that!

During the day on Saturday vessels got examined, the Farmer's Market was duly pillaged, and a lovely selection of Mercer Estates wines were tasted (and purchased). Saturday's dinner of spaghetti, meatballs and breadsticks was accompanied by a selection of salads and desserts that made Holland America Cruise Lines look second class! We were paired up with volunteer hosts to dine on their boat in an intimate setting, which gave us the opportunity to make friends of some folks that had been only acquaintances.

Sunday morning we gathered on the party dock and soaked up sunshine while drinking coffee and juice and eating pastries and fruit. We then cruised home in sunshine on flat water, renewing our faith that the weather will once again, finally, become worthy of the investment we have in our boats!

Boats in attendance were: Allaban II, Autumn Mist, Bianca, Brizo, Bud Man, Burke's Law, Chew Toy, Doughboy, Final Answer, Friendship, Island Ranger, Isola, Key Allegro, Knot Woozy, Knotty Time, Mossback, Our Brigadoon, Private Reserve, Scalawag, Sea Eagle, Sea Glass, Sea Sharp, Searchin', Sloe Tango, Tapawingo, Water Skipper, Wind Dancer, Windsong, & YBoat!

We didn't get the 30 boats needed to get our $150 reservation fee refunded, so we collected $5 from each of the boats there. If you command one of the boats that cancelled, please send your $5 to Barry McDonnell (call 206-244-6714 if you need the address).

SUPPORT BOATS NEEDED FOR SOUND ROWERS EVENT

July 8 & 9

We need boats to support the Sound Rowers 10 mile open water race from Manchester State Park around Blake Island and back to Manchester. This will be Poverty Bay's 5th year providing on the water safety support for this event. We normally rendezvous with boats from Bremerton squadron on Friday evening (July 8) at Port Orchard Marina. We hold our safety meeting there along with a throw together potluck dinner. Then we head out early enough Saturday morning (July 9) to be in place before the race. When the race is over, normally about 1200, we head back to our home ports. We need 6 or more boats to do a decent job of covering the race.

We have only had to actually help a rower once. In that case it was one of the peddle boats who's propeller had become entangled with weeds/kelp and would not propel the boat. Mostly we parallel the group of boats as they string out over the race course to be there in case one gets in trouble and to provide a sort of barrier to intrusion by other boats that could cause a safety problem.

Please Contact P/C Bob Miller, SN to join the fun.

A NOTE FROM YOUR INTERIM EDITORS

Hi, everyone! Sorry this is later than you've been used to with the Log, but Marcus and I have had a busy April and we're still getting up to speed (part of why I'd been reluctant to take this project on).

That said, we'll try to bring you all the Pirate goodness you've come to expect from ex-editor Julie Hale's excellent work. If we're able to work it within our schedule we'll continue after the summer break. If you have any comments on this, our first attempt, please let us know. Any changes we make to the Log will be gradual, and we hope they will be features you enjoy. If there are features you'd like to see, tell us those, too. And, as always, if you have an article idea about any boating activity or interest, please feel free to send it to us. It could be a past boating experience you've had, some information you'd like to pass along that could be useful, or descriptions of great destinations in Puget Sound our squadron members might enjoy visiting. Fun photos of squadron activities are always welcome too!

Happy Reading!
